A DEMOCRATIC Spoils politician says President Cleveland ought to turn all the Republicans out of office, because Lincoln turned all the Democrats out when he became President in 1861. The cases are not parallel. President Lincoln found the bulk of the Federal officeholders either with arms in their hands fighting against the Government or sympathizers with those who were fighting against the Covernment. Cleveland found none but loyal men and faithful patriots in

THE Democratic newspaper organs of President Cleveland at Washington declare that the position of Chairman of the Civil Service Courmission, made vacant by the resignation of Dorman B. Eston, has not been offered to Charles R. Codman, of Massachusetts, and would not be accepted if it should be so offered. On the other hand the New York magwamp newspaper organs of the President aver that the office in question has been offered to Mr. Codman, and that he has accompted. It is not the business of a Ropublican newspaper to reconcile the contrary stories of the two classes of Administration organs.

In 1585 the potato was first brought into Germany. The first seed potatoes in Saxony were a present in 1591 from the Landgrave of Hesse to the Elector of Saxony. In 1647 they were grown as exotics in gardens at Leipzig, Swedish soldiers brought them into Western Germany about the conclusion of the Thirty Years' War. In 1717 they were reintroduced into Saxony from Brabant, and within twentyfive years they began to be regularly cultivated, their use being much de veloped in the famine period of 1770-71. In the year 1882 over nine million acres were given up to the cultivation of potatoes in Germany, the produce amounting to twenty three million tons.

The new Democratic Postmaster of Baltimore is a nervous person. and likes to have things quist around necessary to displace one of his clerks, an ex Union soldier, in order to get rid of the noise made by the man in stumping about the office on a wooden leg. Thus does the work of blotting out the memories of the war move steadily forward.

The election contests in France for the choice of members of the Chamber of Deputies where there were failures to elect a week ago, are characterized by even greater excitement than filled that country last Sunday. Upon the result of these second contests will depend the political complexion of the future, including the election of the President of the Republic, who is to be chosen by the Deputies in December.

What Parents Fear.

Many persons -especially parents-object to many quack nostrums as likely to engender or eucourage a love for strong drink. They are right. Better die of disease than of drunkenness. The Land-Grant Railroads-Preparing f the Annual Reports-Secured a Residence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 17.-- An other raid on the Treasury has been or ganized, this time by the druggists of the United States, about 80,000 in number They allege that for the past fiftee years they have been paying a retail liquor tax which has been illegally col lected, and they propose to file a test suit in the Court of Claims. The amount involved is upward of $10,500,000, and ex-Third Auditor Rutherford of the Preasury Department, has been retained as attorney by the druggists. The avcrage sum claimed by each drugglat is about $250, and applies to those who have died, their heirs and those who have retired from business. It is alleged by the claimants that an erroneous in terpretation of a statute by the Solicitor the Treasury was the only basis for collecting the tax, which was made two and a half times greater than one which Congress abolished. This tax way a war measure and was first lay way n war measure, and was aret levied in 1861 and repealed by Congress ten years later. The Solicitor decided, however, that the retail druggists came under another classification, and acting under his instructions the tax was deter-mined and paid. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue says that no papers in the claim have been filed at the Treasury Department, and that, of course, no ac-tion can be taken by his office until such a step is taken. The probabilities were that the Secretary of the Treasury would send all the papers to the Internal Revenue Oillee if they were presented to him, and until that is done no attention will be paid to the question.

The distinguished English churchman, Archdeacon Farrar, arrived in Washington yesterday, and will remain here several days. In tan interview yesterday speaking about the recent revelations of the Patt Mall Gazette in England, he said charity would not permit of his ques-tioning the sincerity of the publishers of the thizette in their efforts, but he did not think the method adopted was a wise one. The feeling in England was that it was a mistaken idea to give wide publicity to such shocking details. It had an ovil effect upon the young mind, rather than a reforming influence upon the community. He said he did not think either that England was as bad morally now as it and other coun-tries had been in the past. In this partheular it was getting better, and this great wickedness was confined, not gen ctal. He lectured last night on "Dante" at the Congregational Church, and will deliver another lecture on Robert Brown-ing's poems at the same church this

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 17 .-Assistant Secretary Jenks of the Interior Department has been giving considerable attention of late to the law governing the land grant raliroads. He finds that there is ample power vested in the Secretary of the Interior to in-quire late all matters relating to the reads, but that in the past that ower has not been exercised. A Two-Year-Old Child Carried Off and Killed by An Eagle.

MONTREAL, CAN., October 16.-This moraling the wife of Jean Baptiste Romilly, a farmer in St. Vincent de Paul, a village about ten miles from Montreal, was feeding her fowls, while her child, about two years, was playing around. Suddenly a large bald-headed eagle swooped down and bore the little one off in its talons. The child screamed and extended its arms to the mother who was beside herself with mental agony but was powerless to render assistance The acreams of the child, however, at tracted the neighbors, who with sho guns, pursued the eagle. The bird was seen to alight with its prey upon the roof of a barn a mile distant. Lifting up its bead, with one powerful blow it drove its beak into the child's head and then began its borrid feast. At the near approach of the neighbors, who were thrug guns to frighten it, the eagle took flight. leaving the child behind. When the body was recovered life was extinct. MILWAUREE, Wis., October 17.—Peter McGeoch was stricken down by some thing like apoplexy at an early hour yes terday morning, and for several hours it was thought that he would die. He had grown very stout, and was stricken down at his home near the city without a mo-ment's warning. Dr. Moore was hastily called, and after working with the suf-ferer for some little time gave him relief. It is not believed his sickness is regular apoplexy, but it is so like it that his call was very close. Mr. McGeoch was very much better at noon, but his idness was still regarded as very acrious.

& BUYING A COAT.

Extraordinary Experience of a Farmer in Baxter Street, New York.

He Buys a Coat That Was Made for a Police Judge, for Five Dollars, and Gets Swindled.

How Business Is Carried on in the Jew Quarters of the Metropolis-Queer Methods.

NEW YORK, October 17.-Robert Hallwig, a Jersey farmer, dropped into Leopold Cohen's store in Baxter street yesterday. "Here's a coat that will fit you like the paper on the wall," said the glibtongued clothing merchant. "Andrew White, the Police Judge, who is running for Sheriff, ordered it, but it was a little too tight for him. A man brought the coat back yesterday, and he said, right away, that the Judge lost a pocket-book with $200. Feel how deep these pockets are. You won't lose any money with this coat" Hallwig shoved his hands this cont in Halling Buotee his had to the pockets and felt a pocket-book. It flashed through his mind that it was the one that Judge White had lost. He did not make known his discovery, but quietly remarked:

"How much did you say you wanted

"Five dollars, my friend. Shall I roll it up or do you want to keep it on?" He preferred to wear it and hurried around the corner. Then he pulled out a fifteencent pocket-book and opened it. It was suffed with paper. When his disgust and ruge subsided, he went to the Tombs and told his story to Sergeaut Reinish, remarking that the cont was worth $2. Policeman Dixon went with the farmer Policeman Dixon went with the farmer to Baxter street, where he arrested a woman for chasing another female with a kuife. He told the farmer that he would have to walt, as he had to take his prisoner to the Tombs. Dixon was his prisoner to the Tombs. Dixon was to civ lian's attire, and at every step was stopped by the second-hund dealers. When Hurrison Cohen's store at No. 6 was reached, Wolfseiger, the "puller lu," selzed the officer's arm and dragged him in the the store. His prisoner walked on. Four men surrounded Dixon in the store walked on the store big coart from the and almost tore his coat from his back and tried to force him to try on another. Dixon fled from the store and ran after his prisoner, who was about a block away. He caught up with the woman almost at the same time that Cohen and his assallants came up, and a rough and tumble fight cusued. Dixon broke two of Wolfseiger's teeth and marcaed the to the Tombs with his other prisoner. Harris Cohen ran to Assembly man Oliver's office and engaged him to defend his 'patteria.' "Is a man to be punished twice for one offense?" asked Mr. Oliver of Jus-tice Smith. "His face is all banged up tice Smith. "His face is all banged up and his lips swelled almost twice their size. It would be wrong to imprison him in the bangain."

"The liveliest soit of competition is going on in Barter street," said witness for prisoner. "All kinds off tricks are resorted to. Some of them employ professional beginning to stand in front of professional beauties to stand in front of prefessional beauties to statud in front of their stores to draw on customers. They do a good business, too, as there are not many men who pass that way can resist a beautiful face. Mr. Cohen is not rich enough to employ a beauty, and the only way to save ourselves from starvation is to drag in customers."

A STRANGE LONFESSION.

Been Abducted and Robbed. Boston, Mass., October 17 .- Miss E ma Turner, who caused quite a sensation in this city by stating that she had been abducted and robbed by two men a week ago last night while waiting at the Old Colony Depot for the New York train, has confessed that her story was false. After the detectives had made a thorough investigation, they came to the conclusion that the young lady origi-nated the story for some reason which they determined, if possible, to ascertain. They had several interviews with to the The detectives placed the matter in the bands of one of her relatives, and the latter succeeded in getting the young ladv to tell the truth. She had been addicted to the use of ether, it is said. She told her relative that she went to the Old Colony Depot, intending to go to New York, where she had secured a position as nurse in the New York Hospital. While there, she was taken with an uncontrollable and maccountable impulse not to go to New York, and she bought a tieget for Fall River, and had her baggage checked to that city. She then went to a drug store on Washington street and purchased a bottle of other. After using some of it she wandered about the streets for some time, and finally reached Bowden Square, having, in the meantime, thrown away the checks for her baggage. She boarded a Cambridge horse-car and rode to Mt. Auburn street, and from there she walked to her uncle's in East Watertown. On her way there she threw away her money, watch, etc., all of which have been recovered. The baggage was found at Fail River and brought to this city.

Jackbon bays he is quilty. he Murderer of Parr Will Hang to Prison for Life.

Wiliam Riley Jackson, the tough who has been in the Decatur jail many times, pleaded guilty yesterday at Bloomington to the indictment for the murder of Richard Parr, and threw himself on the mercy of Judge Reeves. Bentence is suspended for the present The court may fix death penalty or send Jackson to Johet for life. Jackson a course occasioned great surprise, as it was supposed he would fight the case. He is a pugnacious sort of a chap, having on one occasion brutally assaulted a young man near the tray factory, for which he got only a jail sentence He then left Decatur, and was not heard of again until he killed Parr. The crime for which Jackson was ar of the latter, in Danvers township, near Bloomington, on February 9th last. He, Jackson, was a stranger to Parr, the two having met for the first time in the village of Danvers on the day of the shooting Jackson had been drunk for at least a day or two before, and was drunk during the day that he killed Parr, Parr allowed him to ride to his house on his sled, Jackson claiming that he was in search of a man named Chester McCollum, who lived in the same neighborhood store at 113 South Water street, and get of Parr While he was at Parrs house, he loaded his revolver and accused Parr of having stolen his watch, and almost immediately afterwards he shot Parr and his son John Parr died the next day, but John got well Jackson claimed that THE U B church audience room has the Parrs, among them, had stolen his watch, which was a Waterbury affair. worth $3 or $4, and that in seeking to Bargains in the best musical instru- | get it from them Parr came at him with an at telling him to leave or he would split his head open, whereupon be shot, in self defense, and that he shot John as musket In this he is contradicted by power at the water works until the plant last May convicted, and sentenced to be no extra burden, as the plan simply uses hung Judge Blades granted him a new triel, principally upon the ground that annually for gas lighting The council one of the jurors in the case had stated,

Young Lady at Boarding School. At some of the French boarding schools in Paris, the garls are fed on weak soup, two or three degrees stronger than hot water; meat, from which nearly all the nourishment is extracted by boiling; coarse yeal, watery carrots and gray, sour bread. The young lady who comes home after a few terms of this sort of diet may be very learned, but is pale and poor-looking, lacking vigor and health. Wedding Guests Polsoned-A Hasty Scattering.

Honnsball, Pt., October 15.-A de cided sensation was produced here last night by the discovery that a dozen or more guests at a swell wedding had been poisoned by some food that was furuished by a Scranton cateror for the wed-ding breakfast. At noon yesterday, Hat-tle Western, daughter of a leading merthat here, was married to Harry S. Battin, Superintendent of the Consumers Gas Company of Chicago. The couple left on the afternoon train, and had hardly been rolled to the deput before it was noticed that the guests began to depart with unseemly haste. They were afflicted with griping pains in the abdominal region, that increased so rapidly that some of them had hardly time to make their adien properly. At their home physicians were summoned, and found it necessary to treat for mineral poisoning. Either lobster salad or ice-cream absorbed some com-pound of lead from the cans in which it was brought from Scranton. Serious results are anticipated in some cases. were under treatment, and all the doctors in the town were busy. Speculation is rife as to how the bride and groom Fight With Horse-Thieves-Two Killed. LITTLE ROCK, ARE, October 15 -Particulars of a fight with a band of horsethieves in northwest Arkansas has reached here. Farmers in Independence and Sharp Counties have been losing valuable stock for months past, but were unable to prevent the depredations Last week a number of horses were stolen from the neighborhood of Batesville, and at different points in Sharp County. Pursuit was organized, a dozen armed men joining in the chase. The thieves were overtaken on Sycamore Creek, where they had camped for the night. Though surprised, they made resistance and a fight followed, which resulted in the killing of two of the band. The remaining three escaped by hiding in the underbysh. None of the pursuers were seriously injured.

THE New York Park Commission of planting pond lilies to drive out malaria. Superintendent Parsons has written a letter to the board calling attention to the cultivation of pond lilies and anggesting that such varieties might be cultivated in the basins of the park fountains as to make an attractive feature. Not only the red and yellow lilies, he said, could be raised, but also the beautiful pink lily, the sacred Lotusof Egypt and the red lily of India. The experiment has been made with success in Fairmount Park, Philadelphia, and by horticulturists in different parts of the country. It is believed that where pond lilies grow there is no malaria.
